Get behind the wheel of an urban racer with the ability to play big and tackle big problems. The all-new SnowRunner - High Roller Pack includes one of the year's biggest cars: the Khan 39 Scout. High Roller is the world's first car with the ability to drive on either four or six wheels and both AWD and DLS modes. The High Roller is a street-legal, customizable, extreme racer that's the perfect car for any occasion, whether it's making a big play in a big city or escaping a big one in a big city. This DLC is included for all Year 1 Pass owners. SnowRunner. These are words that generally have nothing to do with winter. But, when it comes to the snow-capped mountains of Eastern Siberia, those words describe the ultimate winter driving experience. It's pure. It's extreme. And, of course, it's fun. Your winter drive is officially about to get wild./* Video Core Copyright (c) 2014 James G. The founding member of the Drosophila C. elegans gene family, NOS1, is selectively expressed in neuroblasts and their lineages in the Drosophila brain and in a subset of the human brain. Its expression pattern includes the temporal and spatial regions of neurogenesis. In these unique properties, NOS1 seems to be a strong candidate of a developmental modulator gene. Because NOS1 was initially identified as an oncogene in a mouse mammary tumor study, the expressed protein of this gene has been a possible biomarker for human breast cancer. In human embryonic stem (hES) cells, which are cell lines with unlimited differentiation potential, we have explored the effects of constitutive expression of NOS1 in hES cells using a proteomic approach. Our results demonstrate that protein expression was altered at both the level of transcription and translation in the NOS1-transfected cells. Approximately 1300 protein spots were identified from three independent experiments, and 9 spots showed upregulation and 15 spots showed downregulation of expression in NOS1-transfected cells. We also showed that altered expression of the neurogenic transcriptional repressor REST was consistent with a repression of neuronal commitment in hES cells as well as with the upregulation of the cell cycle markers p27KIP1 and proliferating-
